Re-Creation of Music—not merely its Reproduction

Thomas Chalmers, the famous baritone of the Boston National Grand Opera, is not listening to himself. He is singing, note by note, in direct comparison with Edison's marvellous Re-Creation of his voice.

Great Northern Railway Co y May Develop Passburg Mines

Considerable credence is given to the rumor circulated to the effect that the Great Northern Railway are about to take over and operate the mines and coke ovens at Police Plats and Passburg, and that John R. Macdonald, until recently manager of the Franco-

Canadian Collieries' mines at Frank, will be manager of the G.N.R.'s operations.

The mines at Passburg and Police Plats have been closed down for over two years. The plant and coke ovens are among the most modern and best equipped in the west.

Presentation To

J. R. Macdonald

The employees of the Franco-Canadian Collieries assembled in the church hall on Monday night for the purpose of making a presentation to Mr. and Mrs. John R. Macdonald. The hall was well filled. The chair was occupied by Mr. R. Sten. Mr. Sten's remarks were as follows: "Ladies and Gentlemen: We all know the object of our meeting here tonight—to bid farewell to Mr. Macdonald, who has resigned his position as manager of the local mines. We greatly regret that it is necessary for Mr. Macdonald to leave us, and we are here tonight in some small measure to show our appreciation of what he has done for us during his stay here."

The following musical program was rendered: Song, by George Fairhurst; Song, by H. Drew; Violin solo, by John Crawford; Song, by Mr. Sullivan; Solo, by Mrs. T. Moore; Solo, by T. Green; Violin solo, by Miss Osterlander; Song, by Mr. Shaw; Musical solo, by J. M. Sherrin. Mr. T. Davis was called upon to make the presentation to Mr. Macdonald on behalf of the employees. The following address was read and presented in letters form to Mr. Macdonald: "Dear Mr. Macdonald: We have heard with deep regret of your decision to sever your connection with the Franco-Canadian Collieries, and we are gathered here tonight to express our appreciation of your services."

For the past few years, since you have been manager of the mine, the employees have enjoyed a period of prosperity owing to your efficient management. We, the employees, have shared that prosperity as well as the Company. During your stay with us, we have learned to trust in and depend on your leadership, feeling that any step you should take was perfectly safe for us to follow.

Your relations with us have always been friendly and congenial, so that it is not only as manager of the mine, but as a friend, that we wish him good. At work, our confidence in you brought us united satisfaction, because we knew that while you had to protect the Company's interest, that we also would receive our rights.

We have appreciated improved conditions under which we have had to work during your management, and your attitude that it was to the Company's interest that the men work under the best conditions.

We also have appreciated your value in the community and your interest in all that was best for us when we were not at work.

Now that you are leaving us, we wish you and your family God-speed in this new work you undertake.

Signed, The Employees of the Franco-Canadian Collieries."

In reply Mr. Macdonald, on behalf of Mrs. Macdonald and himself, thanked heartily the employees for their nice presentation, and desired also to thank them for their loyal support during his term of management. He felt that whatever success was attained had been greatly due to the splendid co-operation of the men in general. Unless such co-operation was complete it would have been impossible for the manager to attain much success. He wished to mention in closing that should his successor, Mr. Brown, who is well known to all, experience difficulties such as he himself had to encounter, that the men should offer assistance, as he has done, and as a result, would find that co-operation with Mr. Brown would have the same pleasant results.

The present included a beautiful parlor suite, valued at upwards of $200. Several vocal and instrumental selections were rendered, and the meeting brought to a close with the singing of "God Save The King."

The Hudson Bay store at Leo St. Anne, which has been in operation over 150 years, is being closed.

Letter From

Samuel Wallace

The following is a synopsis of a letter received by Mrs. Samuel B. Wallace at Westville, N.S., from her husband, who is now in France, and who may be of interest to many of our friends in the Corps' Next Door:

"I received two letters from you yesterday. Glad you are still well and the boys. I am going on pass Tuesday, 30th (January), for ten days. Have not made up my mind where I will go. I am going to have a day or two in London, and as a sick furlough in free transportation I can go where I like. I may go back to Berlin for a day or so, but have not made up my mind. You spoke about me very well. You spoke about me very well. Well, you will have a hard time to find them. Although I had a few fine times, none of them were really bad, and that was from Ottawa was a joke. They must have been mixed up with something else. I kept a diary for a while on the same. I may as well write some of it to show you what we thought and did while waiting for the next boat sailing. I found the boat that I wrote in on the 15th of October. We were looking for someone on our second visit, and we found him. I also found an identity list and match-box. Found two lines, and started down to get rid of them, but got stuck with doing so. On October 13th had a visit from friend McGrath, who got buried in his dugout by a coal box, leaving his wife extended till morning. He was killed on November 17th. Found a flare pistol (German), took it apart to see how it worked, and it was very simple. Examined German equipment. Don't believe it is as good as ours. Found this machine better than ours. At 10 p.m., told me to write the Sing Sing digout (so called because we could not visit in daylight on account of snipers). He had found a box and said that the Hun had left when the Scots went over a day or two before. We had a good cup of tea and returned "home."

On the 19th we could not look out at all—shooting all day. On the 20th, came to billets for forty-eight hours' rest. On the 21st, went to assist the 12th Brigade. They made a successful advance. On the 22nd, ordered into line of the 10th Brigade to attack in the morning. The 27th, the attack failed, though bravely done. 4th Battalion badly handled. Killed many evening, too tired to act. November 17th, ordered to front line 4th Battalion, to go over parapet in next morning. All the trench mortar battery as he had in the attack. Went over on the 18th in German line. Got machine as we entered German trench. The 10th, at 11 a.m., admitted to Canadian general hospital, Latrepost, France. Left for Brighton on 27th and admitted to 1st Southern general hospital on the 28th, to Harrow Hall auxiliary hospital on December 5th, to Monk's Horton convalescent hospital on January 3rd, and Canadian casualty assembly centre on the 12th and Canadian convalescent division on the 12th. Now feeling o.k.

Red Cross Concert

What promises to be a most pleasant and interesting entertainment will be put on by two returned soldiers, Private Post and Trooper Jerrard, at the local opera house on Friday night of next week, under the auspices of the Blairmore branch of the Red Cross Society. The proceeds will go to the Red Cross fund.

The H. R. Post was connected with the Alberta University staff at Edmonton before enlisting. He left with the 3rd Battalion, 1st Canadian contingent, was wounded at Ypres, and after spending two months in hospital, was discharged disabled and returned to Alberta. The first four months after his return he devoted his entire time and abilities to the Red Cross, raising for them over $1,000.00 quite free of all expense. He now still gives a good percentage of all his entertainment proceeds to the Red Cross and other patriotic bodies.

Post is a very clever speaker and his tale to tell is full of interest and thrilling, but very highly amusing, for he dwells mostly on the lighter side of life as it is in the trenches. Trooper Jerrard, of the Mounted Rifles, Edmonton, has made thousands laugh all over Alberta and British Columbia, and is an old hand as an entertainer. These two boys are spoken of most highly by the press all over the west.

Russia's Man Power

Car Has a Combined Force of Fifteen Million Men

The London Standard is authority for the statement that, according to the best information obtainable, Russia has at the present time in the first fighting line fully equipped in every respect, and fully in a condition to render a good account of themselves, three millions of men. Behind these, in the second line, well equipped, and fit to join the first rank, is another great force of three millions of men, making, with the first line, a total of six millions. Behind these again there are five millions, not so well equipped or disciplined, but rapidly being provided with what they require. Adding these to the first two bodies, we get an aggregate of eleven millions of men. Behind these there is yet another force, regarding which there is not very definite information, but which is believed to be undergoing training and arming, of altogether four millions of men. Adding these to the three bodies already mentioned, we get a combined force of fifteen millions of men. (Montreal Herald.)

Same in Western Canada

Robbing the Fertility of the Soil to Get Rich Quick

It ought not to be necessary in this country to commit robbery of crops by force of law. The farmer himself would take care of that problem if he were sufficiently regardful of his own best interests and of those of his heirs. Unfortunately, he is not so provident, and that explains the introduction of a bill in the legislature of North Dakota to require him to do what he now fails to do. There has been a criminal waste of soil fertility in the United States. Evidence of this waste are found in thousands of abandoned farms in the eastern states and in the lessened productivity of western farms. The basic cause of this abuse of soil is the greed of the farmer. The "get-rich-quick" fever has been so widespread and disastrous on the farm as in industrial centers. From the first the temptation has been irresistible. The farmer has been driven to the limits for the sake of immediate returns. From the Minneapolis Tribune.

In a place in New Jersey a town building caught fire, and the ex-hoaxers failed to do their work. A few days later at the town meeting some citizens tried to learn the reason for the fire. One of them said: "Mr. Chairman, I make a motion that the fire-extinguishers be examined ten days before every fire."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

"Hey, what did you go and sell them apples for?" "Ain't they for sale?" "No. Them was the samples we sent to our far beyond the border limits before every fire."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Building Up a Herd by Testing

A Certain and Profitable Income from the Dairy Herd Under Proper Methods

C. T. Thomas, Dominion Dairy Recorder for the Lloydminster district, gives some interesting facts about the Dairyman's cow-testing. He mentions some few days ago. Mr. Thomas tested his own herd in building up a profitable herd of cream-producing cows in the course of three or four years by adopting the policy of daily testing the individuals in the herd. He is also testing his for the better fat.

At 100 acres of wheat in 1912 Mr. Thomas and his son netted $1,532. While this was a very satisfactory return, he decided to make an inventory of his dairy cattle in an endeavor to ascertain whether a better or more certain income could not be derived from them. As a result he discovered that one cow would yield as much as six acres of wheat and that therefore if he could realize the value of 100 acres of wheat he would have to increase his herd to 16 or 17 cows.

Seeing in the weight his milk every day and he was successful in increasing the flow from 83 to 100 pounds in only 20 days. Counting he explained how he had built up a profitable herd, but would not give his animals on the basis of their productivity. As a result of this in 1913 he netted an income of $1,532.88 from the sale of cream, and he was able to pay for the cost of the year had on hand an increase of 100 acres of stock and a car of wheat as well.

STORMY WEATHER HARD ON BABY

The stormy, blustery weather which we have during February and March is extremely hard on children. Conditions make it very difficult for mother to keep them in the house. They are restless and overactive, badly ventilated rooms and catch colds which rack their whole system. To guard against this a box of Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the house and an occasional dose given the baby to keep his stomach healthy and his bowels regular. This will not fail to break up colds and keep the health of the baby in good condition all the brighter days come along. The Tablets are sold by medicine men and by mail. Write for a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Excursions to Alaska

C. P. R. Already Preparing for a Record Tourist Traffic This Summer

The Canadian Pacific Railway is preparing for a record tourist traffic to Alaska this summer. It is the largest of the Pacific boats now operating between Vancouver and Seattle will be requisitioned for two extra trips.

The first real effort to attract tourists to Alaska was made by the Company last year. It was successful, was the initial effort with the additional facilities completed by the railway, the tourist business to Alaska is expected to increase each season.

On account of the war, which has curtailed tourist traffic to Europe, American tourists are seeking opportunity to "tour Alaska," the passenger service. Many points of interest are in pleasing contrast to European tourist centres.

Inquiries for information regarding the route to Alaska centre on Algonquin Bay, where American tourists desire to see the activities of the Indians. Here are many of the most elaborately carved houses in Alaska. The Indian village of Bella Bella is also prominently mentioned in inquiries from tourists.

On the basis of the tourist season, which extends from June 15 to Aug. 15, is not, as is generally believed, a lot of sea ice here, a snowy month, there is a staid pine or a polar bear. The combination of the warm and the cold of the Alaskan coast is a very unusual feature.

Skagway, Alaska, 1,000 miles from Vancouver. In addition to its novel and interesting attractions, it is one of the places of call on the route. The climate is such that it is believed it will become one of the world's greatest summer health resorts.

Handling Milk in Winter

Same Care Is Demanded in Winter Months as During the Summer

Many farmers who pay strict attention to the correct handling of their milk and cream during the hot weather, relax their vigilance during the winter. The result is that good milk is produced during that part of the year when good milk is difficult to produce and a low grade of milk when it is naturally easy to produce good. Too much dependence should not be placed in the natural qualities of the cow. The chances are that this will not produce the required temperature and the fall and early winter purchasers of milk often find it more difficult to keep the product from becoming sour than they do during the hot weather. It is a fact that during the fall and early winter purchasers of milk often find it more difficult to keep the product from becoming sour than they do during the hot weather. The Three Functions of the Liver

1. It manufactures the bile essential in the process of digestion.
2. The starch and sugars derived from the food are stored in the liver and sent to the tissues as needed.
3. It detects and destroys poisons.

Dire Results of Overeating

From the standpoint of health man's cardinal sin is overeating. The digestive system can look after a certain amount of food, but when continually crowded the food mass is delayed in the alimentary canal and what is not digested ferments.

In other words, this food spoils or rots, and poison bacteria are given off.

It is the duty of the liver to destroy these poisons. It usually succeeds, but after a time it tires, increases in size from overwork, and finally fails.

What Failure of the Liver Means

The poisons then hurry through the liver and into other organs or tissues. Then you have torpid liver, indigestion, head aches, bad breath, bilious action of this important organ, a good flow of bile is ensured. This is poured into the intestines, where it acts as Nature's cathartic in keeping the bowels regular.

Prevent Host of Ills

Such a multitude of ills arise from sluggish action of the liver, kidneys and bowels that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are considered a household necessity wherever their merits are known.

By all means regulate your diet to your needs.

Then remember that when your liver does get wrong and threatens to upset the whole digestive system Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will afford quick relief and prevent all serious complications.

How to Get the Liver Right

The thing to do is to keep the liver active and the bowels regular by use of such treatment as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and you will then run no risk of such serious developments.

This medicine acts directly and specifically on the liver. By promptly

Pills For The

Automobilious

Here's the latest. A chaplet in New York displays a check paid for his invention to prove that he devised a solidified gas which can be molded into pills. A clear box of these pills, costing $50 will take an automobile all the way across America. The invention will be rapidly tested, not merely by automobile owners, but by those who have not felt able to afford a car. Mr. Dooley has told us that all the details of sleeping on travel can be enjoyed by anyone who just a cinch in life and realize upon the marketplace. Statistically all the nations of an easy and ready job may be experienced, no doubt, by merely swallowing a couple of these pills. "Who closed eyes the captive imagination will perceive the delicious aroma of gasoline in combustion the transportation will be greatly shocked by the conclusion of exploding street and to the roadside address to oneself now and then a minor note to appear in court and pay a fine in order to complete the routine. The cost of the passage and the salary of the chauffeur may be struck from the budget and the money saved may be devoted to the black diamond and next necktie soon at the nearest drugstore, the up-to-date automobile will be waiting the withdrawal of the car, and the victim of this intoxication engaged in putting a great mileage together themselves and honest work will be sure to find a little reward when upon the battlefield.

National Service

Literature

One of the most valuable of recent literary contributions to the great cause is a booklet by Professor Stephen Leacock, entitled "National Organization for War." In this booklet, Dr. Leacock makes an urgent call for nationalistic and nationalistic action. It is a very concise and to the point statement of the various common errors in regard to individual spending of money during war time.

The pamphlet was originally published by Dr. Leacock himself, but the National Service Board were so convinced of its value in connection with their Thrift Campaign that they have had it reprinted and have undertaken its distribution. Copies may be obtained by writing to the Secretary of the National Service Board at Ottawa, or by applying to the National Service Director in any Province.

Giraffes

The giraffe is a high, narrow animal found in the circus and delirious tropics.

It has a ten-story neck and a nose for K. We often wonder why a giraffe is not, anyhow. The giraffe probably wonders, too. It's so long the poor thing would choose to die at one end and never know it as the other. And it keeps its head so far from the ground that every time it looks down it's afraid the head will drop off.

But let's not hold the giraffe too strictly to account for his neck.

He probably started out to be a foot counter and forgot about it.

The very person that ever said a giraffe was a small boy on the wrong side of the lion at a tall game.

Statistics show that the majority of business failures on the American continent occur where newspapers are least patronized.

Anglican Church

Service on Sunday will be at 7:30 p.m., conducted by the Rev. H. Clay. The subject of the sermon will be "The Third Temptation of Jesus." Each Wednesday evening in Lent there is a special service at 7:30, with prayer and address. On Thursdays there is a children's service at 4 p.m. Sunday school every Sunday at 7:30. Mrs. F. Wright organizes. A hearty welcome to all.

"The Man in the Moon"

Girls, girls, girls, and family comedians will lead enchantment to the scene with the merry, mystic, Turkish-infused comedy production "The Man in the Moon," that will be the attraction at the Blairmore opera house on Thursday night next. "There's a long, long trail," "Honorable Blues," and "They called it Dixie land," are a few of the popular, winning numbers that will be heard in this musical fun. The scenic environment that produces Hays has the production mounted on will gain the eye of the most critical, and will be the cause of much comment. S. G. Davidson, the baritone with the show, will be heard in his famous songs.

The initiatory degree was conferred on four candidates at the regular meeting of the local I.O.O. F. lodge on Tuesday night of this week.

Some of the married men of the town say that a "mock trial" would be something new to them, or their ordinary trials are unimpressive.

Cowley Happenings

R. Alexander returned from Ontario on Monday.

Little Jane Dwyer, who is ailing, is getting on nicely.

A very successful masquerade dance was given at the Tennessee schoolhouse on Friday last. The dance was well attended and many splendid costumes were worn. One splendid new feature was the auction sale of home-made candy, which brought close on to twenty dollars. Altogether, some sixty odd dollars were taken in. Proceeds went toward the Red Cross and Patriotic funds.

The Ladies Aid of the Presbyterian church gave their monthly social at the mausoleum on February 25th. Like the preceding events, it was pronounced a decided success. There were over fifty people present, and all had a good time. The programme was good, and each artist did his or her part well. Bar-ry O'Harrigan, in his usual good form, gave some of his popular songs, which were enjoyed by all. The prize for the guessing competition was won by Mrs. McIvor, and consisted of a box of home-made candy, donated by Miss Kippin.

Bellevue Happenings

Mr. Marple, of Calgary, is visiting here for a few days.

R. T. Johnson was at Fernie on Sunday, visiting his family.

R. Connolly returned home this week from a visit to Pincher Creek. Quite a number of Bellevue folks took in the dance at Hillcrest on Monday night.

Mrs. G. F. Sedgewick, of Lundbreck, was visiting friends here during the week.

Mrs. Degroot, of Blairmore, was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hansen during the week.

Ed Cole spent some time this week at Smith Fork, getting ready for the spring's farm work.

Jack Brooks left this week for Calgary to represent Bellevue Local Union at the convention.

Private Peat will give his lecture in the Workers' hall on the 20th of March. A good audience is expected.

On account of the prevalence of scarlet fever and measles, the public school was closed down temporarily on Monday.

Word has been received that a number of Bellevue boys have crossed over to France recently, and may now be in the trenches.

James Burrow, who is recovering from injuries received in the mine here, left this week for his home at Columbia Gardens, B.C.

Don't forget the masquerade dance, to be held in the Workers' hall on March 10th. Proceeds are to go to the Red Cross, so come and help the cause along.

The proceeds of the dance given in the Workers' hall on February 23, by the Bellevue L.O.O.F. lodge, was equally divided between the Red Cross and Patriotic Funds, each getting about $41.

Son's men refuse to pay their debts because they think it would injure their credits.

A low murder was committed on Victoria Street on Wednesday, when a large hawk swooped down on a flock of pigeons feeding there.

Sgt. Grant came down from Coleman on Monday to join the staff at the R.N.W.M.P. headquarters at Blairmore. His family will remain in Coleman for a while yet.

To the seat left vacant in the British Columbia legislature by the death of Mr. Ralph Smith his widow may be elected. Once in politics women may show themselves to be the fair sex in another sense of the word. So remarks the editor of The Mail and Empire.

The Professor's Bulletin

No. 10. The bulletin this week will be devoted to the discussion of two questions which have been raised by correspondents. I agree thoroughly with Mr. Alex. Donaldson, of Calgary, in his criticism of my use of the word "equally" in Bulletin No. 7. As used by me on the occasion specified, the word "equally" is certainly tautologous. I thank Mr. Donaldson for drawing my attention to the circumstances; for I think he will agree with me that one of the commonest mistakes in the speaking and writing of English is the use of tautologous words and phrases. Our friend has therefore done us a great favor, and the virtue of the correction is not less because, in this instance, it is "the professor" himself who has been caught tripping. Underlying this mistake, however, and explanatory thereof, is another one. The fact of the matter is that instead of the word "equally" I ought to have used the adverb "quite"—making the sentence read, "Dynamite is quite as much as blockades quite as much as, if not more than, Holland." Here, the word is not tautologous; it is inserted deliberately, for the purpose of giving point and emphasis to the phrase "as much as." For the sake of the adverb, compare the phrases, "just as much as," "fully as much as."

Of course, it is apt to be clearly understood that the correction which I have made above, at the suggestion of Mr. Donaldson, does no effect, to the slightest extent, to the point of the original discussion, which had reference to the omission of the second "as" from the phrase "as much as."

Well, I find that I have already consumed a reasonable amount of space, and deem it advisable to postpone the discussion of the point raised by "One of the Opposition." I question him about it, and will answer his question in Bulletin No. 11.

—THE PROFESSOR.

Frank Happenings

H. A. Howard, manager of the Trusts & Guarantees Co., of Calgary, was in town on Wednesday.

John Brown, the local mine manager, was in Calgary this morning, for the week, attending the operator's meeting.

The Chapman Brothers, of Lethbridge, came up Thursday morning to assist the Goat Mountain Minstrel Troupe with their concert.

The minstrel concert given in the church hall last night was a brilliant success. The hall was crowded to the doors, and everyone enjoyed the excellent programme rendered.

William Simpson, of Medicine Hat, is visiting his old friends here today. Mr. Simpson reports times flourishing at the Hat. On his return he will take up a position as engineer with the Chinook Collieries at Chisno.

The preliminary examinations for the Dominion civil service was held for the returned soldiers at the military hospital on Tuesday. Fifteen of the veterans took the examination, which was presided over by the Rev. W. T. Young.

Supt. Cotterell, of the C.P.R., Lethbridge, was in town with engineers of the company, looking over the work being done by the steam shovel in the slide. The grade reduction is going steadily forward and great masses of rock are being moved in the endeavor to lower the grade over the slide. The new roadbed will be about eight feet lower than the present.

Every dentist does a wide open business.

A dance will be given at the Windsor hotel at Lundbreck on Tuesday night next.

The contributions for the Patriotic Fund at Bankhead for the month of January amounted to $380.

The German army is making some progress toward the rear. The roads are better than in the other direction.

G. Gasowski, market agent for the West Canadian Collieries, was in from Spokane the early part of the week.

Recruits Urgently Needed For Divisional Engineers

Whenever a large number of men are gathered together, there is great amount of engineering work needed. Just as a city needs all kinds of engineers and mechanics to make the city comfortable and healthy, so the Canadian Army in France needs the Canadian Engineers. There is not a crossed of difference in the engineering work necessary, except that in the Army all luxuries are eliminated.

The Canadian Engineers carry on behind the fighting line in the same way that the works department of a community would carry on in Canada; and to handle the work properly and efficiently the Canadian Engineers' companies must include its proper proportion of all kinds of engineers, mechanics, and men with trades.

Because of the smallness of the Canadian Engineer Unit in France in the early days of the war, it was found necessary, in order to get all the engineering work done, to provide "working parties" from the Infantry, the Pioneer, and other units, which working parties would "carry on" under the supervision of the Canadian Engineers.

Thus the Sapper (as the Private in the Canadian Engineers is called) became really a foreman, handling a working party of as many as 100 men in some instances.

For instance, if the Engineers have to put up huts for rest billets, the Engineer Officer will arrange for working parties of carpenters from the Infantry, and this working party will be directed by one or more of the Sapper companies, depending upon the amount of work to be done. Even in other branches of the Engineer work the Sapper plumper will direct work of "working parties" in water supply work; the Sapper with experience in road construction will direct "working parties" in that line of work.

Troops, of course, that a Sapper will supervise "working parties" in cases of work entirely apart from the kind of work he has been used to in civil life, but the special training which he will receive in the Canadian Engineers will fit him for this work.

The Canadian Engineers can only take men who are qualified and the men who are qualified is fortunate, since he can join with the Engineers, do his duty to his country, take his part in this great war, and at the same time be assured that his experience and skill, developed in civil life, will be utilized to the greatest extent in his work in the Army.

Men who are interested in the Engineers should write to either of the following recruiting offices—Mr. F. W. Downey, Victoria Mansions, Lethbridge; Lieut. W. Parker, Recruiting Officer, Medicine Hat; or Capt. F. H. Peters, Officer Commanding, Drinix, Divisional Engineers, 215-261 Ave. East, Calgary, Alta.

Britain's New Problem

In spite of all warnings that it was moving in the extreme for wives and families of Canadian soldiers to follow their husbands and fathers overseas, it is estimated there are now over 50,000 of these dependents there, causing uneasiness. There are two disquieting views of the situation: First, the fact that it means so many more mouths to feed in the old country at a time when economy in food consumption is essential; second, that the transportation of these people back to Canada at the end of the war will be a problem.

Another source of trouble is the fact that the dependents are not being taken care of by the government.

MRS. JARVIS, BOX 285, PENETANG, P.O. ONTARIO, says: "It was a pleasure to write and tell you what Dr. Cassell's Tablets have done for my baby. When only five months old he was taken sick. I had medical advice for him, and was told he had colic, for which he was treated, but he did not get any better, only worse. I then gave him several special foods, but none of them would stay in his stomach, and he became so thin that he seemed just skin and bone. He weighed twelve pounds. We were months of it."

Every mother should know that Dr. Cassell's Tablets are just as suitable for children as they are for grown-up people. Their splendid nutritive and cleansing properties overcome any tendency to nervousness or weakness in the little ones, and lay the foundation of a strong constitution for after years.
